Building Stronger Communities, Together

MONTHLY HIGHLIGHT

Your Change Changes Lives : Adapting to the New Norm

During these unprecedented times, our clients continue to face many pressing needs. Filos' services have had to adapt to the new restrictions caused by the pandemic.

Many of our senior clients live alone in the community. Previously, their days were spent at Filos and the neighbouring Senior Activity Centers where they could engage in activities and spend quality time with their friends. Since February 2020, social distancing measures meant seniors had to stay home to stay safe as they are a high risk group for Covid-19 infection. This cut off their social circles. It was made worse because many of them lacked the digital-savviness to connect with their friends virtually.

Filos eldersitters reached out to our senior clients over the phone, patiently guiding them to use WhatsApp video calls. The eldersitters faced many obstacles. These included trying to engage seniors who could not hear well over the phone. It was also difficult to explain terms like “camera button” and “app” to the seniors as well as trying to adapt to the different interfaces of different phone models!

Despite these challenges, some of our seniors got the hang of it and were able to join in the first online HAPPY sessions conducted for them. HAPPY is an exercise programme that aims to prevent and reverse frailty in community dwelling elderly.

Even as we gather the elderly back into Active Ageing sessions with us, we realise that several of them have grown physically and cognitively weaker after the period of the Circuit Breaker. Our goal is to systematically work with them to restore and maintain their function so that they can continue to age well in the community.

We hope you can join us to continue to help our seniors as well as our other beneficiaries. Our services have switched to online tuition classes and reading programmes, virtual children’s drop in clubs as well as online and limited center based activities for our seniors. We also continue to distribute essential items and rations to vulnerable families. We need your support to make sure we can help as many clients as possible to adjust to the new norm. ParentsPlus Adolescents

You've lived through temper tantrums and school blues. Your child is now a teenager, a period of intense change as he begins his journey to independence and discovery of his own identity. That can result in differences in view points between you and your child, conflicts explode as he tests boundaries with risky behavior and you may feel your influence fade as his focus changes from parents to peers.

Join our FREE Webinar as we discuss these issues together.

PROGRAMME HIGHLIGHTS

Inaugural kickoff of ParentPlus Webinars!

Filos rolled out a series of ParentPlus webinars that aim at helping parents to strengthen parent-child relationships.

The first session of ParentsPlus Early Years, 'Tuning In to Your Preschool Child', took place on 4th July for parents of preschoolers. The ParentsPlus Children's webinar, 'Pause for a Cause', was conducted on 11th July, for parents with children in primary school. The Parents' Plus Adolescence Programme ran on 18th July on the topic 'Connecting with your Teen'.

Participants shared that the facilitators created an inclusive and safe space that enabled them to feel comfortable and forthcoming in sharing their parenting triumphs and challenges. They also appreciated the videos that were shown during the sessions as it provided real-life examples of parenting. A parent shared: 'It's a very strength based programme and the facilitators are very knowledgeable about the topic.'

Want to join us to get new insights on parenting your child? Click on the sessions below to sign up! Registration is free for all webinars.

Filos x NUS Batch Project 2020: Senior Activity Booklet

The Filos x NUS Senior Activity Booklet is the result of the collaboration between Filos and the National University of Singapore's Batch Project 2020.

The idea of the activity booklet was initiated by our Eldercare Team. Due to the standstill on many of the active ageing and befriending programmes, many of our senior clients have been cooped up at home. Care staff have also not been able to conduct home visits to them. These circumstances have made it challenging to engage with our senior clients. The activity booklet presented an opportunity to keep seniors busy with activities in their own home to help reduce their boredom.

A total of 57 students came onboard to design and compile activity ideas into a Booklet for the month of July. Activities in the booklet range from classic games such as spot the difference and puzzles, to more interesting ones such as de-coding games. The students even provided tips on setting up WhatsApp accounts and a step by step guide to identify potential scammers.

You can download this booklet, as well as other resources Filos has developed for seniors through this link here!

We are thankful to the skills-based volunteers who have been coming forward to work with our staff on such projects. If you are keen to contribute to such projects that enable and empower our seniors to remain active while being at home, drop us an email at info@filos.sg today with your ideas and suggestions!

STORY OF THE MONTH

Mdm Norshimah & Family : A Board Game a day keeps the Boredom away!

When one of our staff who was doing her regular house visit for a client, she chanced upon Mdm Norshimah and her 6 kids. The family was introduced to Filos and has been receiving assistance since then. Her children are aged 2 to 11 years old and 3 of her them attend Filos' tuition programme. Mdm Norshimah is also a member of our Mother's Group. Click 'Read More' to find out more about her family's journey with Filos!
